ANNOUNCEMENT

Given the continued resistance to issue electronic receipts (EBM) among taxpayers trading construction materials, lubricants and spare parts, supermarkets and wholesalers; who have been found to increase the purchase price of goods in order to issue EBM receipts to the customers who request for them; in addition, some taxpayers have been found selling products at higher price than what is recorded on the receipt in order to lower the tax related to those sells;

Reference is made to the findings of our data analytics which was communicated to concerned taxpayers demonstrating discrepancies in their stock inventory as a result of the malpractice of non-issuance of EBM receipts;

RRA reminds all taxpayers whose physical stock does not match with the stock in their EBM system to rectify those discrepancies, produce EBM receipts for the goods sold without issuing them and pay corresponding taxes.

We call upon professional accountants and tax advisors to advise their clients on accurate filing and pay appropriate taxes in order to avoid penalties provided by the law on intentional tax avoidance.
